You don't have to go far for fun in Utah's Canyon Country. Each town has an abundance of activities to keep your adventure active and exciting. Venture through the history and culture of each area and explore the rural areas of Southeastern Utah.

Monticello

Frontier Museum

Indoor, 20-30 minutes

216 S Main St. Monticello, UT 84535

435-587-2271

The Frontier Museum, located inside the Monticello Welcome Center, is housed in a century-old barn. Moved from its original location, visitors can still view the original post-and-beam construction. Take a passage through time and glimpse the lifestyle with displays of vintage household items as well as relics from native people, cowboys, outlaws, farmers and shopkeepers. While at the visitor center, don't forget to view the Emerson & Brantingham Big 4 Tractor. As one of the last few in existence, it's over 100 years old and still running! The tractor makes its yearly appearance in the Monticello Pioneer Day parade.

Hideout Golf Course

Outdoor, Time varies

648 South Hideout Way Monticello, UT 84535

435-226-1292, hideoutgolf.com

It's always tee time at the Hideout Golf Course. As one of Utah's premier public golf experiences, the course showcases a wide variety of scenery year-round. Golf gurus of all ages can enjoy the excitement of the sport whether it's at the 3-hole junior course or the full 18 holes as well as the driving range and practice greens.

Canyon Country Discovery Center

Indoor and Outdoor, 1-3 hours

1117 N Main St. Monticello, UT 84535

435-587-2156, ccd.discovery.org

Explore and interact with the hands-on learning stations at the Canyon Country Discovery Center in Monticello. The family-friendly facility allows audiences of all ages to discover the natural history of landscapes, cultures, astronomy, water and land use and energy in the area. The center houses an indoor rock-climbing wall, nature playscape and network of walking trails for an immersive learning experience of the campus grounds.

Learn, explore and interact with various home sites at the Nations of the Four Corners Cultural Center. The organization has six home sites connected by over 5 miles (8.05 km) of well-maintained trails. Learn about the legacies of the Ancestral Puebloan people, the Ute, Paiute and Navajo people as well as the Spanish and Pioneers. Climb the observation tower and pack a picnic lunch for this adventure.

The Dinosaur Museum

Indoor, 1-1.5 hours

754 S 200 West Blanding, UT 84511

435-587-3454, www.dinosaur-museum.org

Take a colossal step back in time at the Dinosaur Museum. Open mid-April through mid-October, visitors can view skeletons, fossilized skin, eggs, footprints and sculptures of dinosaurs. The founders of the museum got their start sculpting dinosaurs for the motion picture industry and their work has captured the attention and imagination of many dinosaur enthusiasts. Movie posters are scattered throughout the museum and you can't miss the 14-foot-tall (4.27 m) Therizinosaurus, a feathered dinosaur with a 20-foot (6.1 m) wingspan!

Bluff

Bluff Fort

Indoor and Outdoor, 1-1.5 hours

550 East Black Locust Bluff, UT 84512

435-672-9995, hurf.org

Commemorating the historic pioneer heritage, Bluff Fort Historic Site showcases replica log cabins originally built in the late 1800s by families who were part of the San Juan Mission Expedition (Hole-in-the-Rock Expedition). Enjoy walking through this iconic small town that offers a replica mercantile for visitors to shop, learn and explore or use as an event space. Spend some time dressing up in pioneer clothing, gold panning, roping wooden cows and horses and more. Don't forget to taste the homemade baked goods and soft-serve ice cream before you leave!
