Seafair History

Fifty years ago, the idea for Seafair was the brainchild of a Rockport man, Bill Christian. He believed the area needed a celebration in the fall to fill the lull between the summer visitors and the arrival of winter guests.

Though the event has grown since its creation, it remains very much the same as Christian envisioned it: a parade, arts & crafts, bands, water entertainment and a gumbo cook-off were part of the very first Seafair. Today they all remain major attractions.

Christian formed a Board of Directors, established a 501(c)(4) non-profit organization. Each Board Member was an integral part of those beginning years. A lot of blood, sweat and tears was experienced in those beginning years. In April of 2000, Pam Farley, President of Seafair at the time came to a Rockport-Fulton Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meeting and requested that the Chamber of Commerce take on the event. That year, during Seafair the community experienced the coldest of cold fronts for that time period and four solid days of rain.

It was shortly after that rain out event that Bill Christian came into the office of the Chamber with a lot of encouraging words and a box full of Seafair history. The Chamber is committed to continuing the Seafair legacy and the wonderful ideas of Bill Christian.

TODAY:

Rockport-Fulton Seafair will be celebrating its 50th event this year. The commitment to serve on the Seafair Planning Committee is taken seriously by the more than 30 volunteers who commit their time a full six to seven months prior to the festival, not to mention non-stop work the week of the event. Areas such as grounds, vendors, entertainment, tickets, sponsorships, gates, marketing, and others take an immense amount of logistical coordination. The volunteers serve because of their loyalty to the event, the Chamber and their Community. The volunteers do this to bring you a fun weekend and a boost to our local economy.

Seafair would not be possible without sponsorship support. While we are able to keep the cost to attend at a reasonable price there are significant upfront costs to organize the festival. So, as Seafair has grown the need for support from key leaders in the business community is as important as ever.

Seafair plays an important role in the social and economic wellbeing of the community. Seafair is designed to build a greater sense of community among residents, and a nice boost to the local economy in the slower season. We have a fabulous Seafair planned but we can't do it without YOU!

Marketing

The festival hosts a healthy mix of both men, women and families. We target our advertising to those 25-65 years old. Our advertising reach will saturate the Coastal Bend Region. Additional advertising through paid digital ads, billboards, and email blasts will reach across San Antonio and Austin.

Our marketing efforts will also include local television, geographically targeted digital ads, email blasts, local bloggers, local radio, print ads and other paid posts through advertising partnerships with local businesses. Press Releases will be sent to all media outlets throughout Texas.

Advertising for the festival has already begun on a smaller scale but will increase as we get closer to the actual event date. Our biggest advertising push will begin August thru October 2025.

Partner With Us

Partnering your business with the Rockport-Fulton Seafair will give your business:
